July 16, 2012 (Austin, TX) - Public comment and public service. Both are involved in the latest “e-View” from the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles. “E-View” is an online opportunity for Texans to share what they think about proposed license plate designs. The Texas DPS Troopers Foundation (DPSTF) and My Plates are proposing the plate above, and now’s the time for Texans to comment.

Also in this same e-view, Texans may comment on new designs from Delta Sigma Theta (deltasigmatheta.org), Trinity University (trinity.edu), Tyler Community College Apache Belles (apachebelles.com), University of Houston (uh.edu), and University of North Texas (unt.edu), and Vestas (vestas.com).

If approved by the TxDMV Board, the TDPSTF plate further support DPS commissioned officers, communication personnel, and forensic scientists by providing financial assistance in times of emergency need, survivor benefits at death, education and training programs, and scholarships for qualifying family members.

“The Foundation was started in 2010 by the Texas DPS Officers Association as a not-for-profit, 501C3 charitable organization, funded primarily through individual and corporate donations. This plate is a great way to encourage Texans to offer individual support and show that support everywhere they drive,” says John Pike, Executive Director of the TDPSTF.

The public comment period ends July 23.
